As a children's book illustrator Liz loves to engage children of all ages in creative drawing and storytelling. She brings excitement and fun to making picture books and aims to banish the phrase "I can't draw" from the lips of children and teachers alike. Originally from England, Liz is published by Penguin & Walker Books. Since moving to Newcastle, NSW she has also created several huge illustrated maps & facilitated Big Draw events. She regularly reviews picture books for CBCA Reading Time and is an Ambassador for Books in Homes.
